One-Line Bio

Biography

People actually pay me to do this! Find older movie reviews and whatever the hell else they've been letting me write about at washingtoncitypaper.com.

And drama nerds can find my snooty takes on local theahtah at washingtonpost.com. Help make Movie Babe a success so I don't have to see any more pretentious plays! (Disclaimer: Movie Babe is not insinuating that all productions in the Greater Washington, D.C., area take themselves too seriously. Just some of them. And by some, I mean many that I'm sent to.)

And to ensure that I sometimes leave the basement, I also spend my Fridays wenching at a neighborhood tavern, where the beer is plentiful, the glasses are cleanish, and Movie Babe's City Paper reviews are waiting to be enjoyed alongside hamburgers the size of your head. Mmm...burgers.

Interests

Weblogs, baseball, kung-fu movies

(Not really. I'm so lazy I just used the examples typepad gave. Which are so obviously fictional -- anyone who would list kung-fu movies and weblogs (!) as interests would clearly never throw a ball, don a giant foam finger, or let the light of day hit their pale, pale skin.)
